

BE BOLD

"Why cook in just one space? Boasting an innovative design, the elegant internal kitchen of this home extends through the glass wall to create an alfresco cooking and dining area that mirrors the interior's design. Concertina glass doors open back to utilise all available space and combine the two rooms to create a perfect entertaining area. Using Baccio beige marble benchtops paired with Polytec Sepia oak Ravine and Classic White sheen board, this kitchen is the embodiment of modern design. A feature is created through the use of a cantilevered benchtop at the end of the internal kitchen island bar. The kitchen was designed to utilise materials and designs that flawlessly match the Frank Lloyd Wright-inspired home and his approach to architecture: "Form and function are one."
